ChatGPT Is Banned in Italy Over Privacy Concerns

nytimes.com/2023/03/31/technology/chatgpt-italy-ban.html

March 31, 2023

The artificial intelligence tool ChatGPT was temporarily banned in Italy on Friday, the first known instance of the chatbot being blocked by a government order.

Italy's data protection authority said OpenAI, the California company that makes ChatGPT, unlawfully collected personal data from users and did not have an age-verification system in place to prevent minors from being exposed to illicit material.

Italy is the first government to ban ChatGPT as a result of privacy concerns. In China, North Korea, Russia and Iran, the service is unavailable because OpenAI decided not to make it accessible.

Italy's decision is a sign of the policy challenges emerging for the developers of cutting-edge A.I. after the release of ChatGPT. The program has dazzled users with its ability to draft essays, engage in humanlike conversations and perform more complex tasks like writing computer code, but it has raised alarms about the spread of misinformation, the effects on employment and broader risks to society.

This week, more than 1,000 technology leaders and researchers called for a moratorium on development of the most advanced A.I. systems so that safety policies could be put in place. The Center for A.I. and Digital Policy, an advocacy group pushing for the ethical use of technology, has asked the U.S. Federal Trade Commission to block OpenAI from releasing new commercial versions of ChatGPT.

In Italy, regulators have told OpenAI to block internet users in the country from gaining access to ChatGPT until the company turns over additional information. The company has 20 days to provide the agency with the material and possible remedies before a final decision can be made about the future of the product in the country.

Regulators cited a March 20 data breach that exposed conversations and the payment details of some users. The agency said OpenAI could be fined up to 20 million euros (about $22 million) or 4 percent of its worldwide annual revenue.

In a statement, OpenAI said it had disabled ChatGPT for users in Italy and that it was committed to protecting people's privacy.

"We actively work to reduce personal data in training our A.I. systems like ChatGPT because we want our A.I. to learn about the world, not about private individuals," the company said. "We also believe that A.I. regulation is necessary."

As of 5 p.m. on Friday in Italy, word had not yet reached the chatbot that it would be blocked in the country. When asked by a user there if it would be banned in Italy because of privacy concerns, ChatGPT replied, "There should be no concerns."

"I am an artificial intelligence language model that can be accessed from anywhere in the world as long as there is an internet connection," the chatbot said.

AI Introduction

ar·ti·fi·cial in·tel·li·gence

noun

1. the theory and development of computer systems able to perform tasks that normally require human intelligence, such as visual perception, speech recognition, decision-making, and translation between languages.

Large Language Models

A large language model

- "understands" through statistical analysis and probability
- "creates" through combination of pattern, probability, and random sampling

Large Language Models

Good at:

- Coherence
- Summarizing large chunks of text
- Re-writing text
- First drafts when provided with detailed prompts

Bad at:

- Searching for information (though some have been integrated with search engines)
- Providing accurate facts

Recognized Dangers

- Fictional information – dangerously plausible nonsense
- Training bias – Garbage in, Garbage out
- Privacy – who “learns” from your prompts?
- Job elimination
- Weaponization

Trying it out – a cost spectrum for popular new tools

explain personal jurisdiction to a judge

Personal jurisdiction refers to a court's authority to hear a case and make binding decisions over the parties involved in the case. It is the power of a court to hear and decide a case involving a particular person or entity. In order for a court to exercise personal jurisdiction over a party, that party must have certain minimum contacts with the state in which the court is located.

explain personal jurisdiction to an eight year old

Personal jurisdiction is like a rule that says where a court can make decisions about a case. Imagine a big building where the judges work, that building is like the court, and the judges are like the teachers in school. Just like how your teacher can only give you a test or grade you in their class, the court can only make decisions about a case if the people involved in that case have something to do with the state where the court is located.

It's like when you go on a trip with your family, and you visit different states, you can only buy souvenirs or play games in the state where you are visiting. Similarly, a court can only make decisions about a case if the people involved have something to do with the state where the court is located.

You run a paid membership-based professional association for lawyers. Write a telephone script to be used by an intern to help them make calls to lawyers who have not renewed their membership. The script should include full back and forth conversation between the intern and the lawyer. The lawyer will present at least five common objections to renewing the membership, and the intern will provide polite, effective responses to convince the lawyer to renew.

Concerns: Cost; busyness; ROI; other associations; participation

Intern: (Dialing the lawyer's number)

Lawyer: (Answers the call) Hello?

Intern: Good afternoon, Mr. Smith. My name is [Intern's Name], and I'm calling from the [Your Association Name]. How are you today?

Lawyer: I'm well, thank you. What can I do for you?

Intern: I'm calling today because we noticed that your membership with us has lapsed, and we wanted to discuss the possibility of renewing your membership with our professional association. Your support is crucial to our community of lawyers, and we would love to continue having you on board. Is there any particular reason you haven't renewed yet?

Lawyer: Well, I've been considering it, but I'm not sure it's worth it. I've had some concerns.

Intern: I understand, Mr. Smith. It's not uncommon to have questions or concerns. Could you please share those concerns with me? I'd be happy to address them.

Lawyer: Firstly, the cost has gone up, and I'm not sure I'll get enough value to justify the increase.

Intern: I appreciate your concern about the cost. Our membership fees are essential to maintaining the high-quality services we provide to our members. However, I'd like to highlight that with your membership, you gain access to our extensive network of legal professionals, exclusive events, CLE courses, and many resources that can help you in your practice. It's an investment in your professional development and networking opportunities.

May I ask if there are specific resources or benefits you'd like to see improved to make Lawyer: Well, I haven't been attending many events.

Intern: I understand that time can be a challenge. We're working on making our events more accessible, including webinars and on-demand content. It can be a convenient way to stay connected with your peers. Additionally, we're exploring more flexible membership options to accommodate busy schedules. Would this address some of your concerns?

Lawyer: Another issue is that I haven't seen any direct benefits as a member.

Intern: I see where you're coming from. While the benefits are not always immediate, such as networking opportunities, access to resources, and exclusive events, we're working on introducing more tangible benefits, like mentorship programs, exclusively for our members. This can have a direct impact on your practice. Would that make membership more appealing to you?

Lawyer: Well, I've been considering other associations too.

Intern: It's great that you're exploring your options. May I ask what specifically you're looking for in an association, and how can we better align with your needs?

Lawyer: Well, I'd like more involvement in leadership and decision-making.

Intern: That's a valid request. We value our members' input and participation. We have various committees and opportunities for members to get involved in various aspects of our association. Your experience and insights would be greatly appreciated. I can connect you with our leadership team to discuss this further.

Lawyer: I'll think about it. Can you send me more information?

Intern: Absolutely, Mr. Smith. I can send you a detailed information packet that outlines our benefits, upcoming events, and how you can get involved in leadership roles. May I have your email address to send this information to you?

Lawyer: Sure, it's [Lawyer's Email Address].

Intern: Thank you, Mr. Smith. I'll send that over right away. Please feel free to reach out if you have any more questions or concerns in the meantime. We'd love to have you back as a valued member of our association.

Lawyer: Thank you, [Intern's Name]. I appreciate your help and the information. I'll review it and get back to you soon.

Intern: You're welcome, Mr. Smith. Have a great day, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Modifying Lease

A lease, either written or oral, is a contract which creates a landlord-tenant relationship. Under the law of contracts, the terms of a contract may not be modified by one party without the consent and approval of the other party. Additionally, an agreement to modify a contract must be "supported by consideration" (something of value).

Therefore, during the term of a lease, its provisions may not be changed by the landlord (for example, by increasing the rent, or requiring tenant to pay for water or other utilities) unless the tenant agrees and receives something that they were not already entitled to.

If the landlord wishes to increase the rent or change other conditions of the tenancy, the landlord must wait until expiration of the existing lease and negotiate a new lease with the new conditions. Under Maryland law, a landlord must notify the tenant in writing before increasing the rent. The notice can be sent via first-class mail or, if the tenant has agreed to electronic delivery, via email, text message or through an electronic tenant portal. If the notice is delivered electronically, the landlord must obtain proof of transmission of the notice. A notice of a rent increase must be sent within the timeframes specified by law. The timeframe for providing notice vary based on the term of tenancy.

Read the law: Md. Code, Real Property § 8-209

The Grammarly sidebar on the right displays the following suggestions:

- A lease, either written... · Rewrite for clarity
- which creates · Correct pronoun usage
- which creates · Remove the space
- landlord- tenant · Correct your spelling
- be modified · Rewrite the sentence
- term of a lease · Change the wording
- rent, · Remove the comma
- tenant · Add an article

At the bottom of the sidebar, it shows "23 All issues" with up and down arrows.

Summary:

Attorney Carolyn Elefant discusses the potential uses of generative AI in the legal field, including legal research, contract analysis, and client interaction. She also mentions commercial and free AI tools that can be used to improve access to justice. Elefant shares her personal experience using AI to record and transcribe client interviews, while also addressing ethics and confidentiality concerns. (Generated by Monica from YouTube video)

Detailed Summary for Carolyn Elefant AI Talk - MDTAILS - 9.13.2023 by Monica

00:00 Carolyn Elefant discusses the potential of generative AI in the legal field, including its uses for legal research, contract analysis, and client interaction.

- Generative AI is powered by large machine learning models that generate new content based on patterns it understands.
- There are commercial and client-facing AI products available for attorneys to use, such as Case Text, LawDroid, and DoNotPay.
- AI can be a time-saver and a helpful tool for providing education and access to justice for clients.

05:59 The speaker discusses various AI tools that can be used in the legal field, including chatbots and non-lawyer generative AI tools.

- Chatbots powered by AI can be adapted for use by legal aid organizations.
- Non-lawyer generative AI tools like ChatGPT, Anthropic Claude, Google Bard, and Bing can be used for various tasks.
- The speaker has used non-lawyer generative AI tools for repetitive tasks but has not found image generators useful.
- LawDroid is a chatbot-building tool that has been around since 2017 and is well-developed.
- Commercial AI products like Case Text and LawDroid are trained on actual case law, providing credibility and protection.
- Commercial AI products have a higher price point, but some offer trial periods and may have different pricing options for legal aid organizations or nonprofits.

11:58 Recording and transcribing client interviews can be made more efficient and accurate with AI.

- Recording client interviews and transcribing them with AI can help personalize forms and minimize the risk of forgetting important details.
- Best practices for recording cases include disclosing to clients, avoiding highly personalized information, and using tools that don't train on confidential information.
- AI can also be used to generate discovery questions and for tone correction in emails.

17:57 AI tools like CHAT GPT can correct tone of communications and Synthesia can create AI figures to personalize websites.

- CHAT GPT can correct the tone of communications and make it easier to fix.
- Synthesia can create AI figures to personalize websites and communicate information in a more personal way.

OK, great. So good afternoon everyone. My name is Carolyn Elephant. I'm an attorney licensed in Maryland, New York and DC, and I've been practicing for several decades now. So I've seen the introduction of all different types of technologies from the Internet.

00:00:23 Speaker 1

And the web to social media, to cloud computing and now to AI. And from my perspective, when I started, first saw it, I felt the way that I did back when I saw the World Wide Web, which was what it was.

00:00:36 Speaker 1

Back decades ago, it really seems like a game changer, so I am an attorney with my own private practice. As I was telling David, I practice energy law. I work with renewable energy companies and also land owners impacted by energy, infrastructure and eminent domain. A lot of my clients are not able to afford legal services.

00:00:58 Speaker 1

And so I've always grappled with ways that I could.

00:01:01 Speaker 1

Provide education to them or serve them so that they could participate in these very complex regulatory proceedings, which have impacts on their property and their safety and their environment. So that's another reason why this tool is really exciting to me. And one thing I've been doing is putting on presentations for.

00:01:21 Speaker 1

Land owners on how to use a.

00:01:23 Speaker 1

Through the first couple of slides very quickly about generative AI, how one of the possible uses for it is legal research, contract analysis, predictive analysis, client interaction, and.

00:01:59 Speaker 1

It may not replace lawyers in the future, but can augment their capabilities and the reason I started with those slides is it's actually a head fake. I didn't put those slides together. They were generated for me by artificial intelligence. I used an add on to Google Slides called GPT for documents and sheets. I put in a prompt.

00:02:19 Speaker 1

And I told this the system to create a slide deck that discusses Jenner to the eye. How can be how it can change the practice law and be used by lawyers. So is it a perfect presentation? No. Is it something I would, you know, just trot out and.

00:02:34 Speaker 1

Without any supplemental information, no. But is it a really good start? Absolutely. Is it a time saver? Absolutely. And so I thought that that was just one way to really convey the power of this tool and how easy it is to use and how much it can do already. And it continues to improve. So.

00:02:54 Speaker 1

I wanted to just give a little bit of background on generative AI and it sounds like most of you are very technically oriented, so you probably know more than me. So if you need to correct me, feel free to do that. It's not going to hurt my feelings, but generative AI is powered by large machine learning models, which means that's trained on a lot of data.

00:03:15 Speaker 1

To make predictions or string words or patterns together in a meaningful way. So essentially what it's doing is instead of being programmed or coded for a particular result, it's gathering or or retrieving pre written responses, it's generating new content based on this information that has been trained on before, and I think that's really important to understand that.

00:03:36 Speaker 1

It's not reproducing content that matches keywords or indexing the Internet. It's actually generating new content based on these patterns that it's that it understands and the reason why that's important. Maybe not so much.

00:03:51 Speaker 1

How do you want Air to open the call?

Hi, this is Dave Pantzer, from Maryland Legal Services Corporation. We help attorneys with questions about their IOLTA reporting compliance. I see that you had a question, and I wanted to see if it's something I can help with.

Fall back answer

What should your A.I. respond if they're asked a question that isn't in its knowledge base & it doesn't know the answer to?

That is a great question. I don't know the answer to that, but I will look into it and get back to you.

General IOLTA Questions

Q: How does an attorney know when to place trust funds in an IOLTA account? +

Q: What effect does IOLTA have on clients? +

Q: What are the tax consequences? +

Q: Are attorneys with very small trust accounts required to participate in the IOLTA program? -

A: No. Maryland Business Occupations Code Ann., Section 10-303 (c) permits the Administrative Office of the Courts, in consultation with MLSC, to excuse an attorney or law firm from participating if it "demonstrates that it will cost the MLSC Fund more in service charges to open and maintain an attorney trust account for the purposes of the MLSC Fund than will be generated in interest by the attorney trust account."

While the charges vary between participating financial institutions, in most instances an attorney who does not maintain an average monthly balance of at least $3,500 in a trust account will not be required to participate. The Annual IOLTA Compliance form permits attorneys to request a waiver from the IOLTA requirement by affirming that their combined trust account balance does not exceed an average monthly balance of at least $3,500. In addition, an IOLTA account may be terminated by the attorney if the balance drops below $3,500 and is reasonably expected to remain so.

Q: Does IOLTA impose additional administrative burdens or bookkeeping requirements upon lawyers? +

Q: Are there any other administrative or reporting requirements that I need to be aware of to ensure my compliance with Maryland's IOLTA Program? +

Q: Who pays the bank service charges? Will they be charged against attorney or client funds? +

Q: What is the Maryland Affordable Housing Trust (MAHT) program, and how does it affect IOLTA? +

DP

Here is a summary of the key points from the report by the Workgroup to Study Mandatory Continuing Legal Education in Maryland:

- The workgroup was created at the request of the Supreme Court of Maryland to investigate implementing a continuing legal education (CLE) requirement for attorneys licensed in Maryland.
- The workgroup recommends adopting a CLE mandate requiring attorneys complete 12 hours of CLE each year to remain in good standing, with the ability to carry over up to 12 hours annually.
- The 12 hours should include at least 1 hour each in ethics/professional responsibility, diversity/equity/inclusion, and mental health/substance abuse awareness ("1-1-1 plan").
- Reporting should be annual, either on a calendar year or aligned with other attorney reporting deadlines. The mandate should apply to all practicing attorneys except new admittees and those registered as inactive.
- The workgroup recommends a flexible approach to qualifying activities and reciprocity with other states. Teaching, writing, online classes, conferences, pro bono work should count.
- They advise leveraging the Attorney Information System for reporting. Overall, the goal is improving competence and public perception while minimizing the burden on attorneys.

DP

Here are 5 one-sentence marketing pitches against the CLE proposal, from the perspective of lawyers:

1. Mandatory CLE unfairly burdens solo practitioners and small firms who have limited time and resources for additional training.
2. Requiring specific coursework every year restricts attorneys from freely growing their skills in areas most relevant to their evolving practices.
3. Mandating 12 hours of CLE annually forces attorneys to divert billable hours towards unproven educational requirements.
4. Continuing education requirements duplicate existing bar exam and MPRE testing without evidence such mandates improve competency.
5. Compelling lawyers to complete annual CLE disregards seasoned attorneys who remain adept through experience rather than mandated instruction.

If your landlord refuses to fix your broken water heater, you have options to address the issue. One possible course of action is to pay your rent into an escrow account established at the local district court. By doing so, the court will hold the rent money until a judge hears your case and makes a decision. Depending on the severity of the problem and the time it takes for the landlord to fix it, you may be eligible to receive all or part of your rent back. To initiate this process, you can file a complaint for rent escrow with the court.
