Setting the stage...

Question 1: In the chat, please enter your level of AI experience:

- 0. Heard of it - never tried any of it.
- 1. Visited ChatGPT (or some other chatbot) - asked it a few questions.
- 2. I've played with several tools – I have not made any professional use of them.
- 3. I have found ways to use free AI tools in my office.
- 4. I pay to use mainstream legal tech tools (CaseText CoCounsel; RelativityOne; Lexis+ AI)
- 5. I teach others how to use AI tools.

Question 2: Thinking about AI and your professional work, choose one or more of these sentences, and enter the sentence in the chat:

- I want _____ .
- I am concerned about _____ .
- I am a big fan of _____ .

Presentation Creation: Gamma.app

The text is the preamble and grievances section of the Declaration of Independence, adopted by the thirteen United States of America in 1776. It begins by asserting the right of people to separate from political ties and justifies this action by listing grievances against the King of Great Britain. The grievances include violations of rights, interference with legislation, obstruction of justice, military presence without consent, and other oppressive actions. The document concludes with a solemn declaration that the United Colonies are free and independent states, absolved from allegiance to the British Crown, and are granted the authority to engage in war, establish peace, form alliances, conduct commerce, and exercise other rights of independent states. The signatories pledge their lives, fortunes, and honor in support of this declaration.

The text talks about how the thirteen American colonies decided they didn't want to be ruled by the King of Britain anymore. They listed all the unfair things the King did, like taking away their rights and sending soldiers without asking. In the end, they declared that the colonies are now free and independent states. The people who signed this said they would do everything they could, even risking their lives and belongings, to make sure this independence happened. It's like saying, "We want to be in charge of ourselves, and we're ready to stand up for it!"

In colonies where freedom's fire did burn,
A declaration boldly was proclaimed.
Equality and rights, the page adorned,
Grievances against the king proclaimed.

"We're independent now," the pledge was made,
To risk their lives, their fortunes, and their all.
In self-evident truths, their case was laid,
A sonnet to liberty, a sovereign call.

From tyranny and chains, they sought release,
A solemn vow to chart their destinies.
With courage, they declared a state of peace,
Inscribed their names, the scroll of liberties.

To every heart, the sonnet shall resound,
A declaration in freedom's sacred ground.

Please write a story in which a Maryland lawyer then drafts a will for that client. This fictional lawyer and I am the client. The lawyer will ask me for some time awaiting a response before asking the next question. If I don't provide enough information, the lawyer will write the will for me. The story, followed by "the end".

Last Will and Testament of [Your Name]

I, [Your Name], residing in [City], [State], being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be my Last Will and Testament, revoking any and all previous wills and codicils made by me.

Article I: Bequests

I hereby give, devise, and bequeath all my real and personal property, including but not limited to the $10,000 in the Bank of America checking account, the house, and the two cars, to my wife, [Wife's Full Name].

In the event that my wife predeceases me, I hereby give, devise, and bequeath the aforementioned assets to my daughter, [Daughter's Full Name], provided she is at least 18 years old at the time of my passing. If my daughter is under 18, I direct that the assets be held in trust for her until she reaches the age of 18.

In the event that neither my wife nor my daughter are alive, I direct that all my assets be donated to the United Way.

Article II: Executor

I appoint my brother, [Billy's Full Name], as the executor of this will. In the event that [Billy's Full Name] is unable or unwilling to act as executor, I appoint my brother [Bobby's Full Name] as the alternate executor. If [Bobby's Full Name] is unable or unwilling to act, the role shall pass to [Jimmy's Full Name], and subsequently to [Jeremy's Full Name], in the order specified.

Article III: Funeral and Burial Wishes

I leave all decisions regarding my funeral and burial arrangements to the discretion of the executor.

In witness whereof, I have executed and signed this Last Will and Testament on [Date].

DP

Here is a summary of the key points from the report by the Workgroup to Study Mandatory Continuing Legal Education in Maryland:

- The workgroup was created at the request of the Supreme Court of Maryland to investigate implementing a continuing legal education (CLE) requirement for attorneys licensed in Maryland.
- The workgroup recommends adopting a CLE mandate requiring attorneys complete 12 hours of CLE each year to remain in good standing, with the ability to carry over up to 12 hours annually.
- The 12 hours should include at least 1 hour each in ethics/professional responsibility, diversity/equity/inclusion, and mental health/substance abuse awareness ("1-1-1 plan").
- Reporting should be annual, either on a calendar year or aligned with other attorney reporting deadlines. The mandate should apply to all practicing attorneys except new admittees and those registered as inactive.
- The workgroup recommends a flexible approach to qualifying activities and reciprocity with other states. Teaching, writing, online classes, conferences, pro bono work should count.
- They advise leveraging the Attorney Information System for reporting. Overall, the goal is improving competence and public perception while minimizing the burden on attorneys.

DP

Here are 5 one-sentence marketing pitches in favor of the CLE proposal, from the perspective of lawyers:

1. Mandatory CLE ensures all Maryland attorneys continuously improve our knowledge and skills, bolstering our value to clients.
2. Requiring 12 hours of CLE each year, including ethics and wellness training, makes certain we lawyers provide cutting-edge counsel.
3. By mandating CLE focused on ethics and mental health, Maryland attorneys demonstrate our commitment to client care.
4. Mandating 12 hours of CLE yearly, including diversity training, shows we lawyers aim to provide inclusive representation.
5. Requiring continuing education in ethics and technology proves we Maryland attorneys strive to remain at the forefront of our evolving profession.

DP

Here are 5 one-sentence marketing pitches against the CLE proposal, from the perspective of lawyers:

1. Mandatory CLE unfairly burdens solo practitioners and small firms who have limited time and resources for additional training.
2. Requiring specific coursework every year restricts attorneys from freely growing their skills in areas most relevant to their evolving practices.
3. Mandating 12 hours of CLE annually forces attorneys to divert billable hours towards unproven educational requirements.
4. Continuing education requirements duplicate existing bar exam and MPRE testing without evidence such mandates improve competency.
5. Compelling lawyers to complete annual CLE disregards seasoned attorneys who remain adept through experience rather than mandated instruction.

DP

Here are 5 one-sentence marketing pitches in favor of the CLE proposal, from the perspective of the public:

1. Requiring lawyers to take continuing education in ethics and wellness ensures the attorneys we trust provide competent counsel.
2. Mandating training in diversity and inclusion guarantees all Maryland residents receive culturally-aware legal representation.
3. Compelling lawyers to continue education ensures attorneys are up-to-date on legal developments.
4. Continuing education focuses on practical skills that help attorneys better serve clients through efficient legal solutions.
5. Mandating CLE proves Maryland's commitment to legal excellence and convenience, unlike the national standard.

Here are 5 one-sentence marketing pitches against the CLE proposal, from the perspective of the public:

1. Forcing lawyers into additional mandatory training drives up legal costs for consumers without clear benefits.
2. Requiring continuing education reduces time attorneys spend directly serving clients and communities.
3. Compelling lawyers to take specific classes yearly restricts the legal system from innovating training most relevant to public needs.

Prompt: What are some alternatives to guardianship?

The screenshot shows a chat interface with a dark theme. At the top, there is a navigation menu (three horizontal lines), the model name 'Mistral OpenOrca', and several utility icons (refresh, copy, settings, database, and Wi-Fi). The chat history shows a prompt from the user (P) asking 'what are some alternatives to guardianship?'. The response (R) is a detailed list of five alternatives to guardianship, followed by a concluding paragraph and a list of three references with 'Context' links. At the bottom, there is a 'Regenerate response' button and a text input field with a placeholder 'Send a message...' and a send icon.

P what are some alternatives to guardianship?

R There are several alternatives to guardianship that can be considered depending on the individual's needs and circumstances. These include:

1. General Financial Power of Attorney: This document allows an individual to appoint someone else (an agent) to make financial decisions on their behalf, such as managing bank accounts or paying bills. The power of attorney becomes effective immediately upon signing, but can be made durable so that it remains in effect even if the principal becomes incapacitated.
2. Health Care Power of Attorney: Also known as a Medical Durable Power of Attorney or Advance Directive, this document allows an individual to appoint someone else (an agent) to make medical decisions on their behalf when they are unable to do so themselves due to illness or injury. This can include consenting to medical treatments and procedures, deciding on the level of care received in a healthcare facility, and making end-of-life choices.
3. Revocable Living Trust: A revocable living trust is created by an individual while they are still competent and allows them to transfer their assets into the trust for management during their lifetime. Upon incapacity or death, a successor trustee takes over responsibility for managing the trust according to the terms of the document. This can provide a smoother transition in handling financial matters without the need for guardianship.
4. Supported Decision-Making: This is an alternative approach that focuses on helping individuals with disabilities make their own decisions by providing them with necessary supports and accommodations, rather than appointing someone else to make those decisions for them. It emphasizes self-determination and autonomy while ensuring the individual's safety and well-being.
5. Representative Payee: For individuals who are unable to manage their own finances due to a disability or other circumstances, Social Security Administration can appoint a representative payee to handle these matters on their behalf. This person is responsible for managing the beneficiary's funds according to established guidelines and reporting to SSA about how those funds were used.

It is important to consult with an attorney experienced in estate planning and elder law when considering alternatives to guardianship, as each individual's situation may be different and require a tailored approach.

what are some alternatives to guardianship?

People's Law Library January 2024

In Maryland, a guardian should only be appointed if there are no less restrictive alternatives available. During court guardianship proceedings, the court will determine whether a less restrictive alternative is available. Therefore, it's important to consider alternatives prior to beginning guardianship proceedings.

However, the specific document does not list these alternatives in detail. For more comprehensive information, it would be necessary to refer to additional resources or legal texts.

prompt: my son is 8 years old. how can i change his name?

The screenshot shows a chat interface with a dark theme. At the top, there is a navigation menu icon on the left, the text 'Mistral OpenOrca' in the center, and several utility icons (refresh, copy, settings, database, Wi-Fi) on the right. The chat history shows a user prompt (P) and a response (R). The response is a detailed, numbered list of steps for changing a child's name, including information about court filings, parental consent, and legal requirements. It concludes with a reminder to follow local laws and provides three references to a document titled 'name-change-child.html'.

my son is 8 years old. how can i change his name?

To change your son's name, you will need to follow the legal process of petitioning the court for a name change. Here are the steps involved:

1. Complete and file a Petition for Name Change with your local court clerk. This document should include information about yourself, your child, and the reason for the desired name change. If your son is 10 years old or older, he must consent to the name change; if younger than 10 but objects to it, this should be included in the petition.
2. The court clerk will issue a notice of the petition for name change. This notice, along with a copy of the petition and any attachments, must be served on each parent who does not consent to the name change. The notice will state that any objections to the name change should be filed within a specified time period (usually 20-30 days).
3. If both parents agree to the name change:
 - For children under one year old, you can proceed with the name change without further court involvement. However, it is recommended that you file an Affidavit of Parentage and Acknowledgment of Paternity or Voluntary Acknowledgment of Parentage to establish legal parent-child relationships.
 - For children one year old or older but still a minor: If both parents consent to the name change, they should sign an Affidavit of Consent for Minor Child's Name Change and submit it with your petition. The court will then review the submitted documents and may schedule a hearing if necessary.
 - After the waiting period (usually 30 days), if there are no objections or further issues, the judge will approve the name change, and you can obtain an Order for Name Change to officially change your son's name.
4. If one parent objects to the name change: The process becomes more complex as it may require a court hearing to resolve any disputes. In this case, it is recommended that you consult with an attorney experienced in family law and name changes.

Remember to follow all local laws and regulations when changing your child's name. Additionally, be prepared to provide documentation supporting the reason for the desired name change (e.g., adoption, marriage, etc.).

my son is 8 years old. how can i change his name?

People's Law Library January 2024

To change the name of your 8-year-old son, you need to file a petition for a name change in the Maryland circuit court. This should be done in the county where your son resides, or where you or another guardian or custodian of your son lives. It's important to note that a name change cannot be requested for any fraudulent or illegal purpose.

To change the name of your 8-year-old son, you will need to file a petition for name change in the Maryland Circuit Court in the county where your son is a resident, or where you, as a parent, guardian, or custodian, live. The petition must include a statement explaining why the name change is in the best interest of your son, the name and address of each parent and any guardian or custodian of your son, and whether each of those persons consents to the name change. Additionally, the preference of your son is important. If he is 10 years old or older, he must consent to the name change. If he is younger than 10 and objects to the name change, that information must be included in the petition. You will also need to attach a copy of your son's birth certificate or other documentation confirming his current name, as well as written consent from each parent, guardian, or custodian, or an explanation of why consent is not attached. If you are unable to obtain their consent, you may request that the court seal the case record so that confidential information is not accessible. If the petition states that a nonconsenting parent, guardian, or custodian is unfamiliar with English, the court clerk will issue the notice in the language identified in the petition or will attach a multilingual advisement form to the notice. If there are objections to the name change, the court will hold a hearing. The court may not enter an order on the petition earlier than 30 days from the date that the notice was received by parents, guardians, or custodians for whom consent has not been received.

Hi Theresa,

Thanks for reaching out to me regarding the Bar Conference in November 2023. I am definitely interested in presenting at the conference, and I appreciate the invitation.

Before I commit to anything, would it be possible to get more information about the conference and what specifically you are looking for in terms of the presentation on practical uses of AI and technology in the Bar Association space? I want to make sure that I can provide value and deliver on the expectations of the audience.

Looking forward to hearing back from you soon.

Modifying Lease

A lease, either written or oral, is a contract which creates a landlord-tenant relationship. Under the law of contracts, the terms of a contract may not be modified by one party without the consent and approval of the other party. Additionally, an agreement to modify a contract must be "supported by consideration" (something of value).

Therefore, during the term of a lease, its provisions may not be changed by the landlord (for example, by increasing the rent, or requiring tenant to pay for water or other utilities) unless the tenant agrees and receives something that they were not already entitled to.

If the landlord wishes to increase the rent or change other conditions of the tenancy, the landlord must wait until expiration of the existing lease and negotiate a new lease with the new conditions. Under Maryland law, a landlord must notify the tenant in writing before increasing the rent. The notice can be sent via first-class mail or, if the tenant has agreed to electronic delivery, via email, text message or through an electronic tenant portal. If the notice is delivered electronically, the landlord must obtain proof of transmission of the notice. A notice of a rent increase must be sent within the timeframes specified by law. The timeframe for providing notice vary based on the term of tenancy.

Monica Summarize Video

Summary:

Attorney Carolyn Elefant discusses the potential uses of generative AI in the legal field, including legal research, contract analysis, and client interaction. She also mentions commercial and free AI tools that can be used to improve access to justice. Elefant shares her personal experience using AI to record and transcribe client interviews, while also addressing ethics and confidentiality concerns. (Generated by Monica from YouTube video)

Detailed Summary for Carolyn Elefant AI Talk - MDTAILS - 9.13.2023 by Monica

00:00 Carolyn Elefant discusses the potential of generative AI in the legal field, including its uses for legal research, contract

- Generative AI is powered by large machine learning models that generate new content based on patterns it understands.
- There are commercial and client-facing AI products available for attorneys to use, such as Case Text, LawDroid, and DoNotPay.
- AI can be a time-saver and a helpful tool for providing education and access to justice for clients.

05:59 The speaker discusses various AI tools that can be used in the legal field, including chatbots and non-lawyer generative

- Chatbots powered by AI can be adapted for use by legal aid organizations.
- Non-lawyer generative AI tools like ChatGPT, Anthropic Claude, Google Bard, and Bing can be used for various tasks.
- The speaker has used non-lawyer generative AI tools for repetitive tasks but has not found image generators useful.
- LawDroid is a chatbot-building tool that has been around since 2017 and is well-developed.
- Commercial AI products like Case Text and LawDroid are trained on actual case law, providing credibility and protection.
- Commercial AI products have a higher price point, but some offer trial periods and may have different pricing options for legal aid organizations or nonprofits.

11:58 Recording and transcribing client interviews can be made more efficient and accurate with AI

- Recording client interviews and transcribing them with AI can help personalize forms and minimize the risk of forgetting important details
- Best practices for recording cases include disclosing to clients, avoiding highly personalized information, and using tools that don't train on confidential information
- AI can also be used to generate discovery questions and for tone correction in emails

17:57 AI tools like CHAT GPT can correct tone of communications and Synthesia can create AI figures to personalize

- CHAT GPT can correct the tone of communications and make it easier to fix.
- Synthesia can create AI figures to personalize websites and communicate information in a more personal way.

OK, great. So good afternoon everyone. My name is Carolyn Elephant. I'm an attorney licensed in Maryland, New York and DC, and I've been practicing for several decades now. So I've seen the introduction of all different types of technologies from the Internet.

00:00:23 Speaker 1

And the web to social media, to cloud computing and now to AI. And from my perspective, when I started, first saw it, I felt the way that I did back when I saw the World Wide Web, which was what it was.

00:00:36 Speaker 1

Back decades ago, it really seems like a game changer, so I am an attorney with my own private practice. As I was telling David, I practice energy law. I work with renewable energy companies and also land owners impacted by energy, infrastructure and eminent domain. A lot of my clients are not able to afford legal services.

00:00:58 Speaker 1

And so I've always grappled with ways that I could.

00:01:01 Speaker 1

Provide education to them or serve them so that they could participate in these very complex regulatory proceedings, which have impacts on their property and their safety and their environment. So that's another reason why this tool is really exciting to me. And one thing I've been doing is putting on presentations for.

00:01:21 Speaker 1

Land owners on how to use a.

00:01:23 Speaker 1

Through the first couple of slides very quickly about generative AI, how one of the possible uses for it is legal research, contract analysis, predictive analysis, client interaction, and.

00:01:59 Speaker 1

It may not replace lawyers in the future, but can augment their capabilities and the reason I started with those slides is it's actually a head fake. I didn't put those slides together. They were generated for me by artificial intelligence. I used an add on to Google Slides called GPT for documents and sheets. I put in a prompt.

00:02:19 Speaker 1

And I told this the system to create a slide deck that discusses Jenner to the eye. How can be how it can change the practice law and be used by lawyers. So is it a perfect presentation? No. Is it something I would, you know, just trot out and.

00:02:34 Speaker 1

Without any supplemental information, no. But is it a really good start? Absolutely. Is it a time saver? Absolutely. And so I thought that that was just one way to really convey the power of this tool and how easy it is to use and how much it can do already. And it continues to improve. So.

00:02:54 Speaker 1

I wanted to just give a little bit of background on generative AI and it sounds like most of you are very technically oriented, so you probably know more than me. So if you need to correct me, feel free to do that. It's not going to hurt my feelings, but generative AI is powered by large machine learning models, which means that's trained on a lot of data.

00:03:15 Speaker 1

To make predictions or string words or patterns together in a meaningful way. So essentially what it's doing is instead of being programmed or coded for a particular result, it's gathering or or retrieving pre written responses, it's generating new content based on this information that has been trained on before, and I think that's really important to understand that.

00:03:36 Speaker 1

It's not reproducing content that matches keywords or indexing the Internet. It's actually generating new content based on these patterns that it's that it understands and the reason why that's important. Maybe not so much.

The video successfully grabs attention with an relatable hook sentence. It discusses the important issue of cost and affordability of legal services, but lacks a clear connection between limited scope services and the overall message. More details and examples would improve completeness. The speaker's perspective adds a valuable and personal touch, making it relatable for viewers. While the topic is relevant, the video doesn't align with current trend topics on social media.

Image creation

Stable Diffusion
(<https://huggingface.co/spaces/stabilityai/stable-diffusion>)

Positive Prompt:

"Create a photorealistic image of an old evergreen forest in the morning, with the sun's rays peeking through the dense foliage. The scene should capture the essence of tranquility and the timeless beauty of nature. Emphasize cinematic lighting to enhance the magical and serene atmosphere, highlighting the lush greenery and the majestic trees."

Negative Prompt:

"Avoid creating images that are cartoonish, abstract, or unrealistic in depicting the old evergreen forest. Do not include elements that disrupt the natural beauty and harmony of the scene, such as artificial structures, people, or animals. Refrain from using exaggerated colors or lighting that detracts from the photorealistic and serene quality of the morning forest with sunrays."

This isn't legal advice. You may want to consult a lawyer about this question.

To legally change your name in Maryland, you can file a petition in the Circuit Court of the county where you live, work, or were born. You can use the Petition for Change of Name of an Adult (CC-DR-60) or Petition for Change of Name of a Minor (CC-DR-062). You can find these forms at the Family Department window or on the Maryland Judiciary Website.

You'll need to attach documents with your or the minor's current name, such as a birth certificate, driver's license, or passport. You'll also need to pay a filing fee, which varies from around $70 to $200.

You may also need to provide proof of publication and pay the publication cost. In most states, you may need to attend a court hearing where the judge may ask questions about why you are changing your name.

You may not be able to use this form to change the name of a minor child, or in connection with an adoption or divorce.

This is not legal advice. You may want to consult a lawyer about this question.

Answer

To change your name in Maryland, if you are an adult, you need to go to the circuit court in the county where you live, work, or carry on regular business. You can also change your name informally by using it, or formally after getting married or divorced, or by asking the court for a change of name. The Maryland Courts website provides forms for the change of name, and you can also seek help from the Maryland Courts Help Center at 410-260-1392 ¹ ².

If you are an adult changing your own name, you can use the "FOR CHANGE OF NAME TO" form to ask the court for the change ³. The process usually involves a hearing where the judge will ask if you intend to change your name and affirm that you are not doing so for an illegal or fraudulent purpose ⁴. This hearing is not adversarial and is generally a straightforward process ⁴.
